Silk Smugglers Still Under Examination.

A RING REMINISCENCE.

A Miscellaneous and Dangerous Gang of Counterfeiters.

ANOTHER FAMILY SKELETON

The trial of the defendants, Graff and Owen, charged with conspiracy in smuggling silks into this peri, was continued yesterday before Judge Benedict and a jury. Assistant District Attorneys Foster and Herring ap-pared for the government. Ex-Judge Dittenboefer, Mr. F. A. Lane and Mr. Louis Post for the defendants. The evidence yesterday related mainly to documentary evidence. The cross-examination of Mr. Mosley was renewed with unusual rigor by Judge Distenheeter, in the course of which the witness said;-1 have no personal knowledge that the goods mentioned in the any one transaction that was closed at once, or the amount of it; I made up the catalogue myself and put the lot number on the invoices; the catalogues were finally made up in manuscript by the clerk.

they realized different prices, each lot would appear on the record book.

The District Attorney said that he offered invoice numbered as exhibits 72, 73 and 77, as proofs of the overt act charged in the indictment, and the remainder of the invoices as corroborative of the testimony Redirect-The invoice produced dated December 17, 1875, refer to lots in catalogues which I made up. That was exhibit 78. The books produced are receipt books of Vilmerding, Hoguet & Co.

Recross-examination-The paper produced is a list of goods sold March 31.

Charles C. Wallace was the next witness. He was examined by Assistant District Attorney Herring. He testified as follows :- I have been a clerk in the employ of Wilmerding, Hoguet & Co. for thirteen years; I produce a record of sales made by that firm during December, 1875; the paper produced is in my handwriting, and is a correct transcript; both the copy and the record were written by me; I was not present at the saie of December 14, 1875; I know the entry dated in book produced December 16, 1875, was made on t hat day. Ex-Judge Dittenboofer objected to the admission of

Ex-Judge Dittenhoefer objected to the admission of the record and entry on the ground that the government must first show by some one who was present at the saie that the siks referred to were those in the entry. (Objection allowed.)

Whereas resultand:—The book produced is a receipt book of Wilmerding, Hoguet & Co.; the exhibit produced. March 16, 1876, is in my handwriting; the entry in the book, of which it is a copy, is not in my handwriting; it was written by Mr. Miller; a clork, who is now a patient in St. Luke's Hospital; the entry book December 16, 1875, was kept by Mr. Miller; the entry April 12, 1877, is in my handwriting; that is the record book; it is a copy of the invoice and the buyers' name and prices; I made the entry of the buyer's name during the sale and the names of the owners of the goods the night before.

Cross-examined by Mr. Dittenhoefer—The only thing that I have on this page of which I have personal knowledge is the extension of the figures; on the 23d of Ferruary, 1877, some silks were sold for Groley & Co.; the entry is in my handwriting.

By a Juror—In case a lot on the catalogue is not sold what record do you make? A None.

By another Juror—Are there not sometimes fictitious saice? A. Yes.

Judge Benerict—The answer was sufficient.

Judge Benerict—The tis untecessary.

Judge Benerict—The tis untecessary.

Judge Dittenhoefer—But I desire to draw out a fuller answer; it is a very proper question, suggested in part by the juror.

Judge Benerict—The Attorney would show for what reason they were introduced.

District Attorney Foster—I want to prove by theso papers certain overt acts committed by T. C. Owens, who, as my learned friend knows, has been engaged in this business.

Ex-Judge Dittenhoefer—That may or not be. Mr. Owens has not yet been convicted. (Lauguter.)

who, as my learned friend knows, has been engaged in this business.

Ex_Judge Dittenhoefer—That may or not be. Mr. Owens has not yet been convicted. (Laugater.)

His honor—lan't this a waste of time?

General Foster—No, sir; I will not admit that I ever made by him, but by Mr. Miller, who is sick at St. Luke's Hospital.

Judge Dittenhoefer objected to the admission of the entries.

District Attorney Foster—Do you dispute the fact that Mr. Miller is now sick in St. Luke's Hospital?

Judge Dittenhoefer—I do not; I am sorry lor Mr. Miller, and hope he will soon recover. But his sickness gives no license to the prosecution to have those entries wronginity introduced. Mr. Miller is the party who was present at the sale which you are endeavoring to prove, and muss himself prove that the entry was made by him at the time of the sale correctly. General Foster—Way don't you admit the sale?

Judge Dittenhoefer—Because, in my view of the case, it is wholly immaterial except to convict Scott, and that, it is understood, we are not trying to do.

Judge Dittenhoefer—Because, in my view of the case, it is wholly immaserial except to convet Scott, and that, it is understood, we are not trying to do.

General Foster—Then I wil deler putting in these entries until I get Mr. Miller's evidence.

John V. Van Arsdale, examined by Mr. Foster, testifice:—I am a scarcher in the Custom House; the manifest produced is dated December 7, 1875, and the officer's return is dated December 5, 1875, and was sent from the steamer Queen, of the National line; another paper produced is dated December 16, 1875, and like manifest of the scamer England; an officer's return is a return of goods that come off the vessel at the time the vessel is delivered up to the officers. Witness produced also a number of other manifests and officers' returns of the National steamship England, taken from the Custom House. Certain triplicate invoices described had been searched for by the witness at the Custom House and be had been unable to find them.

Objection was taken by Judge Dittenhoefer, to which the District Attorney replied that he did not propose to connect the not finding with any overtact in the indictment.

Witness resumed and said:—I have searched for a indictment.

Without resumed and said:—I have searched for a triplicate invoice, December 15, 1875, described as C. in a diamond, of goods left in the steamer Queen, and cannot find them; the two packages thus described were not in the vessels that arrived in this port December 8 and 15, 1875.

REMINISCENCE OF THE RING REGIME The history of the old operations under Ring rule was to some extent revived on the trial of a cause be fore Judge Alker and a jury in Part 2 of the Marine Court yesterday, in which John R. Keyser and James H. Ingersoli were prominent features. The relations of both parties to the "King" troubles are sufficiently familiar to the public to make any fresh statements of them unnecessary. The suit was brought by the Keyser Stove Company to recover from Ingersoil the sum of $1,977 75, slieged to be due the former for work, labor and materials in the furnishing of gas fixtures and the like. The answer of the defendant was blunt and delike. The answer of the defendant was built and deficided, to the effect that the bill had been paid. The Keyser Stove Company sued merely as the assignce of John H. Keyser, by whom the work had been done and materials surmished. In support of his answer of payment ingersoil was sworn as a witness, and testified that about the middle of July, 1871, he had a settlement of this account with Keyser, at which time he paid not only this bill but also some small additional amounts, making in all a payment of $2,000, which payment he made in four $500 notes. In corroboration of this the books of Keyser were produced, snowing the account marked paid. Keyser was then placed on the stand in behalf of the plaintiff in the suit, and showed a marked contrast in person with his rival winess. The latter was young, seemingly not much over thirty, and lashionably oresed, his checks pump and ruddy, his brown eye undimmed, and with not a single siver threat visible. On the other hand, Keyser's dress was that of a plain, unpolished country farmer; his strengting locks were white as snow and his lace showing many inrows hade by the plough-hares of time and care. He testified that in July, 1871, some members of the Committee of Seventy, including Attorney General Barlow, Judge Barrett, Jackson & Schuitz and ethers, owne swooping down upon him with a demand to see his books; that attrough he asserted that his books ower straight he was put in morial terror of both ever straight he was put in morial terror of both elvel and criminal proceedings, to avoid which he ofrided, to the effect that the bill had been paid. The Keyinderstanding that Ingersoil would be honorable "Are you sure they were members of the committee the called upon you?" asked counsel for the defend-

"Are you sure they were members of the committee who called upon you?" asked counsel for the defendant.

"I supposed they were," be answered: "there were different parties coming at me all the time—Schuliz and Barlow and that man O'Rourke—trying to see if my books were all straight."

"Did they frighten you?" was the next question to the witness, to which he replied that he had no "lear," but he had "dread" of the committee. He further testified that he had now no interest in the claim; that it was owned by the Keyser Company; that in this company he was not even a stockholder—he was a bankrupt. Ingersoil was again recalled to the witness stand to testify in relation to the July interview testified to by Keyser. He denied that he asked Keyser in July or at any other time not to let the account get into the hands of the committee; on the contrary, the committee had not bothered him at that time, nor had they even been organized until the September following, and no such conversation could have taken, place in reference to it as that testified to by Keyser. The partner of Lorin Ingersoil, father of defendant, testified that after the date mentioned by Keyser as that when he marked the account paid at the request of the delendant, he had admitted in his (witness) presence that he owed the defendant $15,000, and when suit to recover this amount was threatened, said if it was he would offset it in some way. This embraced the macerial portions of the testimony except a written statement of account sent by Keyser to Ingersoil, in which the amount of the bill in suit was included as a credit to the latter. This Keyser sought to explain by saying that the statement was only a reorgance and was subject to correction.

Judge Alker, in charging the jury, said the only question two in charging the jury, said the only question dad fractically resolved the question for the jury to determine into one of credibility as between the two principal wrinceaes.

The jury, alter deliberating about three-quarters of an hour, found a ve

DECISIONS IN BANKRUPTCY. A. Solcline & Sons, manufacturers of silks at Pater-zon, N. J., made a general assignment to R. M. Oberteuffer last September. A few days thereafter a petition in bankruptcy against them was filed in the District Court of the United States for the Southern district of New York. The debtors pleaded in defence that the Court had no jurisdiction, and a reference was ordered to determine that question. Thereafter the same creditors joined with two others, filed a pe tition in the District Court of New Jersey, asking for an adjudication in bankruptcy. To this petition the an adjudication in bankruptcy. To this position to debtors pleaded the pendency of the petition in New York, and asked that proceedings on the second petition be stayed until the determination of the Court on the first petition. The petitioners claimed that the debtors having pleaded want of jurisdiction in the New York Court could not raise the question as to the jurisdiction. Judge Nixon, of the Court in New York gled an elaborate opinion, holding that the filing of the petition in New York entitled the debtors to a stay of proceedings on the petition in New Yorks; that until the question is determined the Court in New York retained exclusive jurisdiction over the case and that it was not proper for the Court of New York had or had not jurisdiction to adjudge the debtors bankrupt, but that such determination must be left to the latter Court. Judge Nixon also modified the injunction granted against the State Assigned property, but to retain the proceeds until the further order of the Court. Mr. A. Blumenstied appeared for the debtors and Mr. P. H. Vernon for the creditors.

further order of the Court. Mr. A. Blumenstel appeared for the debtors and Mr. P. H. Vernon for the creditors.

On the 22d of October, 1875, a petition in bankruptcy was filed against William Ettinger, under which he was adjudged a bankrupt in April, 1576, and J. E. Wilmerding appointed assignee in May, 1876. At the time of fiting the potition he was the owner of a house on Twenty-eighth street, in this city. The assignee demanded possession of it from the bankrupt, where upon his wife claimed that she has hired it from her husband for $1 s year. The assignee thereupon brought suit to recover the value of such occupation, claiming the lease to be fraudulent and void. The defendant, while admitting the occupation, claimed that she was not liable because of her coverture, and that being a married woman, she had a right to occupy the premises and was not liable to pay therefor. The plaintiff contended that the Bankrupt act gave to the assignee the right to recover the value of any property fraudulentity convoyed, no matter to whom, whether it be to the wife or any one cise, and that the laws relating to married women had nothing to do with it.

The Judge so ruled, and directed a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $1,000 and interest. Mr. A. Blumenstiel appeared for the plaintiff and Messra, Gardiner & Goodhart for the defendant.

of England, painter, aged thirty-two, of 192 Biecker street; Frank Morris, aged twenty-seven, of Boston, pedier, of No. 107 West Fifteenth street; George Thompson, of Ireland, alias "frish Tom," alias Thomas Kerrigan, aged lity-two, of No. 214 Chrystie street, pickpocket, and Charles F. Clayton, aged thirty-three, of No. 6 Jones street, were brought yesterday before United States Commissioner Streids, charged with cassing counterlett five-dollar biffs of the First Na-tonal Bank of Tamona and the First Napassing counterien live-dollar bills of the First National Bank of Tamaqua, Pennsylvania. The complianants are Carolina Bullock, of No. 13 avenue B; H. Grehbiel, No. 243 East Houston street; Peter Schneder, No. 157 avenue A; Helen Wright, No. 252 East Eleventh street, and Gerhard Reiff, No. 242 Division street. Wright and Seymour were held in $2,000 ball each and Henry Williams and Frank Morris in $1,500 each. Thompson and Clayton were discharged. The examination was fixed for this alternoon, at two o'clock.

THE DUNCAN WILL CASE. Samuel P. Duacan died some years ago, leaving an estate valued at nearly $1,000,000, consisting of real estate in this city and rich plantations in Louisiana and Mississippi. No will being found, at the time of his death Henry P. Duncan and Stephen Duncan applied for and obtained letters of administration upon the estate, and after going through the usual routine required by law of administrators relative to accountrequired by law of administrators relative to accounting for all moneys and property that came into their possession during such administration, they effected a compromise with the widow, wherein a release of her claim in the husband's estate was procured by the payment of $20,000 by Stephen B. Duncan, the only heir at law. The administrators were then discharged. The sequel to the administrators of the brothers unfolds a still untold tale. About December has a will of the late Samuel F. Duncan was found in the safe of the New York flotel, whereupon Mrs. Duncan had the same admitted to probate on the 31st day of July last. Mr. stephen B. Duncan, the son and heir at law, then petitioned the Surrogate to set aside the probate on the ground that personal service of the citation to attend the probate of the will had not been made, whereupon Surrogate Calvin referred the matter to Mr. Miner, who reported that no personal service of the citation had been made. The case came up yesterday before the Surrogate to confirm the report of the referee and to set aside the probate. Mr. Henry C. Denison, on the part of Mrs. Duncan, opposed the motion on various grounds, and, among others, that the testimony taken before the referee showed condisively that personal service of the citation had been made, and if, from the meagre testimony given on the part of the heir at law, any doubt existed yet, it would be found that before the return of the citation no had personal knowledge of its existence and made no claim in the present application as to the heir at law, any doubt existed yet, it would be found that before the return of the citation no had personal knowledge of its existence and made no claim in the present application as to the heir at law, any doubt existed yet, it would be found that before the return of the citation no had personal knowledge of its existence and made no claim in the proposte conflowed that the wild because the heir at law did not attack its validity. Mr. Stoughtenbery, in support of the motion, claim ing for all moneys and property that came into his books; that although he asserted that his books "were straight" he was put in mortal terror of both eivil and criminal prosecution, to avoid which he offered to assign to them accounts to cover anything he might be found to owe the city. This assignment, he continued, was subsequently made to Jackson S. Schultz, and included claims egainst Andrew J. Garvey, James Hayes, William M. Iweed, Terence Farley, Richard B. Congolly and others. He told ingersoil about this proposed assignment, when the inter told him be had treatile cough with the Committee of Seventy and did not want any more, and mittee of Seventy and did not want any more, and mittee of Seventy and did not want any more, and mittee of transfer his account. To obtice him he thereupon told his bookkeeper to mark the account he thereupon told his bookkeeper to mark the account for servive; that on the Sth of November last she commenced suit against her bushed for limited divorce, on the ground of cruel and innuman treatment; that after this action was begun she had to abandon A WIFE AND HER CHILDREN.

SUMMARY OF LAW CASES. Moses and Julius Michel, milliners on Broadway and alleged fraudulent bankrupts, were arrested yesterday and taken before United States Commissioner Betts, on criminal proceedings. They were admitted to ball John Connell was employed at the Hotel Bruns wick as fireman to assist the engineer. He was in-structed by the engineer to attend to the machinery for him when he was away. He got caught in the machinery and his arm so severely maimed that it had to be amputated. He sucd the hotel proprietors for damages, and on the trial yesterday, before Judge Van be amputated. He sued the hotel proprietors for damages, and on the trial yesterday, before Judge Van Hoesen, in the Court of Common Pieus, the complaint was dismissed on the ground that no defect in the machinery had been shown.

In the case of Frederick Meldendorf against Mary Sherry and another, a decision was yesterday rendered by Judge Larremore, of the Court of Common Pieus, on a motion to confirm the report of a raieree as to surpus moneys and for an allowance to defendant's counsel. The following is the decision, which tells the whole story:—"The surpius moneys amount to $658 44 and the reference for distribution was the ordinery proceeding had in such cases. There is nothing to show why the referee should charge $100 for his fees, nor why the attorneys of an unsuccessful claim ant should have an allowance out of the fund."

Helen A. Winfield complains that Christian Klein and Rogian Klein had her arrested on a faise charge that she had broken and destroyed their fence and had used abusive language toward them. After an examination she was discharged by the Police Justice, and, feeling aggrieved at her incarceration, she has brought a suit against the Kleins to recover $5,000 damages for malicious prosecution. The trail of the case was commenced yeaterday before Judge Sedgwick, in the Superior Court. The defence is that the complain was made in good faith and was justified by the circumstances. Messrs. Nelson, Smith & Leavitt appear for the plaintiff and Mr. Julius C. Frank for the defendants.

Judge McAdam, in Marine Court, Chambers, yesterday rendered his decision in the suit of Daniel S.

the circumstances. Messas. Nelson, Smith & Leavitt appear for the planniff and Mr. Juines C. Frank for the defendants.

Judge McAdam, in Marine Court, Chambers, yesterday rendered his decision in the suit of Daniel S. Raddo vs. Henry A. Cram, both lawyers, holoning that an order for the examination of an adverse party before trial, under sections 870 to 876 of the Code of Civil Procedure, must be served upon the party sought to be examined as well as upon his attorney; that the various sections of the act contemplate one general scheme, and in construing them all must have conjoint effect, and that each section is to be read and applied in connection with the other, so that all may have operation in harmony. This opinion, it is understood, is in direct conflict with a recent decision of the New York Superior Court, in which it was held that service on the attorney alone was sufficient.

The case of Loring M. Black, the Broadway gambler, who was sentenced to six months? Imprisonment and to pay a fine of $250 for keeping a gambing house, was before Judge Bavis, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, yesterday on habeas corpus proceedings. Mr. John O. Mott, counsel for Black, sought to obtain the discharge of Black on the ground that the commitment was illegal. His Honor dismissed the writ. It was then sought to have the prisoner admitted to bail, pending an appeal to the Gusaria form. His Honor also denied this motion, but said it could be renewed in another court.

GENERAL SESSIONS-PART 1. Before Judge Sutherland.

AN ALLEGED TRUNK LOBBERY. George Briggs, alias Thomas Lewis, was arraigned at the bar by Assistant District Attorney Bell charged with grand larceny. The prisoner, it will be remer bered, is the young man who was arrested as one of the Cambridgeport Bank robbers. The specific charge preferred against him was that of stealing a trunk containing jewelry, valued at $10,000, the property of Alung Brothers, of No. 177 Broadway. The prisoner's coupsel, Messrs, William F. Howe and Peter Mitchell made a vigorous effort to have the case postponed, contended that the Bankrupi act gave to the assisted the right to recover the value of any property fraudulentity conveyed, no matter to whom, whether it be to the wife or any one clee, and that the leaves earlied the micro and that the accessed could bring witnesses from Boston who would prove an althi. Mr. Bellintill for the sum of $1,000 and interest. Mr. Allumensuel appeared for the plantiff and Messra Gardiner & Goodbart for the defendant.

DOMESTIC DISQUIETUDES, Judge Larremore, of the Court of Common Plens, yesterday granted a motion to dismiss the complaint in the Liepburn divorce suit, the lacts of which have already been published in the Hiskale, unless the plantiff within five days takes the necessary stops by plantiff within five days takes the necessary stops by plantiff within five days takes the necessary stops the reference in favor of the defendant in the suit brought by Helen Phillips against Richard Phillips for himted divorce, was denied by Judge Larremore. The facts of this case have also been inlly published and involve briefly charges of cruelly and inhuman conduct on both sides. There was a lengthy and spirited argument yeaterday before Jadge Larremore, in Supreme Court, and the supremental and the supremental than the supremental and appears, and the supremental and appears and the supremental and appears, and the supremental and appears and the supremental and appears, and the supremental and appears and the supremental and appears, and the supremental appears and the supremental and appears, and the supremental appears and the supre mainly on the ground that the accused could bring PLEAS AND SENTENCES.

Richard Ridgeway, who gave his address as No. 192 Chatham street, pretended that he had been sent for eight ladies' cloaks which had been left for alteration at the establishment of E. G. Mills & Co., No. 364 Brondway. The articles were given to him, but on Broadway. The articles were given to him, but on his fraud being discovered he was soon arrested, and on pleading guilty yesterday was sont to the Pontentiary for one year.

Andrew Daly, of No. 327 East Nineteenth street, pleaded guilty to burgiary, having broken into the dwolling of Sigismund Hail, No. 339 First avenue, and stolen a quantity of clothing. He was sont to the State Prison for two years.

THE CONNOLLY SUIT.

JUDGE BARBETT DECLINES TO TRY THE CASE-

The suit against Richard B. Connolly, ex-Comptroller, brought by the people of the State to recover some $7,000,000 claimed to have been appropriated by some $7,000,000 claimed to have been appropriated by him as his share of the "great Court House steal," was down for trial yesterday in Part 3, Supreme Court, Circuit. On the case being called Mr. Wheeler H. Peokham answered, "Ready for Wheeler H. Peckham answered, "Ready for the people," Ex-Judge Waterbury, on behalf of the desendant, asked an adjournment for two weeks on the ground that he was not ready to proceed to trial, and Judge Barrett stated that he did not consider himself qualified to try the case, inasmuch as he had been counsel for the Committee of Seventy. Mr. Peckham insisted that his having acted as such counsel did not in the slightest degree interfere with his trial of the case. Judge Barrett thought that it did, and expressed himself very decidedly on this question, contending that it should be tried belore another Judge. After some further argument the case was adjourned until the 4th of December next, at which time the struck jury was notified to attend.

WHO STRUCK M'ALEER?

John McAleer, sixty-five years old, of No. 154 Stanafternoon with his head and face almost completely covered with bandages and made a complaint of asand John Dunn, aged eighty-feur. He said that he went to their house on Sunday to get a stovepipe nied any knowledge of his property, but beat him

Another witness, a woman, then came forward. She said:—
"Judge, he had a shick, not the one he has now, but a bigger one, wid lead in the end of it, and he was knockin every one around wid it, licken me and my five children and every one that ud come noar him."
Judge Smith—Well, I think this is a case for the Special Sessions. It's too intricate for this Court. The old man, John Dunn, is discherged, but Daniel Dunn will be held in $500 bail to answer.

SHOPLIFTERS ARRESTED.

Detectives Thompson and Cumming, of the Central Office, arrested yesterday, in Eleventh street, near Broadway, two notorious thieves, named Charles Williams, plias "Big Dick." and Jacob Brown, with a quantity of paper pictures, valued at $200, in their possession, which had been stolen from the Methodist Publishing ificuse, No. 805 Broadway. They were arraigned before Judge Morgan yesterday and romanded till to-day.

A TRIFLE OF TREE FELLING.

Gardiner Conklin and John Wober occupy adjoining mansions on Tenth avenue, near 1924 street. Mr. Weber had on his grounds a flue butternut tree with ance to his neighbor. One morning Conklin re-marked to Weber, in a pleasant way, "I shall have to out down that tree," and Weber responded in a simi lar strain, "All right," Mr. Conklin construct this into an approval of his views and soon after, d la Cincinnatus Gladstone, he laid the monarch low. This occurred during the temporary absence of the owner, who, on his return, became very angry and caused the arrest of Mr. Conklin. All efforts at a compromise arrest of Mr. Conkin. All efforts at a compromise proved unavailing and yesterday Conkiin was held to answer for malicious trespass by Justice Kilbreth, in the Harlem Police Court.

A GAMEKEEPER'S LUCK.

James Spaulding, of 423 East Fifteenth street, game keeper in a game of dominoes played at Hangley's liquor store, No. 431 East Fourteenth street, on Sunday night, was accused by James Hangley, one of the players, with acting unfairly. A figut then occurred and Spaulding was badly out about the neck by Hangley. Judge Murray, in the Fifty-seventh Street Court, yesterday committed Hangley in default of $1,500 batl.

A BLACK DIAMOND BONANZA

C. L. D. Spaithoff keeps a coal yard at Twentywas broken down by overloading it and about thirty tons of coal thrown into the water. At low tide the coal can be collected. Mr. Spaithoff has been great annoyed by young men and boys taking the coal aw in bags and wheetbarrows. On his complaint seve prisoners were arragned in the Fifty-seventh Streetout yesterday. The prisoners were locked up is examination, with the exception of the alleged ring leader, who was held in $300.

COMPELLED TO TESTIFY.

Judge Moore, of the Kings County Court, decided yesterday that Charity Commissioner Storms must testify before the Supervisors' Committee in relation to the county institutions or go to jail. The Commissioner has hitherto declined testifying but now expresses his willingness to do so.

THE AINSLIE ESTATE.

Justice Dykeman, of the Supreme Court, Kings county, yesterday vacated the injunction previously granted restraining Mrs. M. Ainshe, of Williamsburg, from managing the affairs of her own estate and col-lecting her rents. The order of the Court is based upon the finding of the jury that the lady is compe-tent to manage ner affairs.

A LAWYER'S TIGHT GRIP.

In the Kings County Supreme Court, Justice Dykeman presiding, application was made yesterday in the matter of the suit of Garrett Hennessey against Maria Lawier, to compel the attorney for the plaintiff, A. P. Valentine, to pay over $1,200, which amount he is alleged to have withheld from his client. The petitioner demanded an accounting from Mr. Valentine, and Judge Dykeman appointed Counsellor T. C. Cronin referee to take testimony in the case and report the facts to the Court.

WASTE OF WATER.

President Slocum, of the Board of City Works, sent in a communication to the Brooklyn Common Council yesterday stating that the great waste of the city water by consumers would either have to be provented or measures would have to be adopted at an early day to increase the supply. He recommends the Engines system or detecting the waste of water. The subject was referred to the Committee on Water and

THE HEMPSTEAD RESERVOIR.

At a regular session of the Brooklyn Common Council held yesterday afternoon, President Ray in the chair, a communication was received from Cor-poration Counsel De Witt stating that in August last the referese in the case of Kingaley and Keeney, the storage reservoir contractors, against the city, had rendered a report for the sum of $107,837 25 in favor of the plaintiffs. Judgment and been entered against the city for the amount stated, with costs, &c., amounting in the aggregate to $116,783 82. Appeal will be taken to the General Term of the City Court, which latter Court will have jurisdiction to review the facts as well as the law of the case.

BROOKLYN JAIL INVESTIGATION.

The examination touching the charges made in the Board of Supervisors of Kings county on last Thursday, to the effect that corrupt influences had been used in order to secure legislation for the adoption of plans for the new jail, was continued yesterday before the

for the new jail, was continued yesterday before the special committee appointed to investigate the matter, supervisor Gubner testified that the Jail Committee concluded to employ Mr. Mundoil, the architect, after excitanging views.

William A. Mundell, the architect, testified at length, and absolutely desired that he had ever received any intimation from the committee or any person that it was necessary to use any money to get his plans through, the work was given him because of his experience in inspecting Jails.

The committee will meet again on Wednesday next,

RELIEVING DISTRESS.

In answer to the appeal made by a correspondent in the Herald on Sunday for the relief of a lady sadly in need the following contributions have been received at the Herald office:—Pasht, $2: Warren, $1; Centum Novem, $1; F. J. T., $1; Mrs. H. H., $1. WERE THE BONDS FORGED?

There was a good deal of indignant discussion yes-terday of the action of Police Justice Flammer in the disposal of a charge preferred against a street operator on Saturday. Certain bonds which it is claimed were on Saturday. Certain bonds which it is claimed were undoubtedly forged were found in the possession of the accused broker and the charge-was an attempt to pass them. The alleged torged bonds, which purported to be securities of the Erie and Pittsburg Railroau Company, as well as some genuine ones, were taken to the Tembs with the accused. The only witness then present was young Mr. Bonner, of Meura. ness then present was young Mr. Bonner, of Messra. G. T. Bonner & Co., No. 20 Broad street. Because he could not positively swear of his own knowledge that the bonds were forgeries, the case was dismissed against the protest of Detective Sampson, whe promised to produce a score of witnesses to show the bonds were forged if a continuance were granted until yesterday. The detective says that he showed the forged bonds, as he insists on describing them, to members of several Wall street firms, some of whom knew the signatures of the officers of the corporation supposed to have issued them, and compared them with genuine bonds, and that all who saw them emphatically pronounced them sparious. But when he asked these gentlemen to appear in court and testify to this effect they ploaded pressure of business as an excuse for a refusal. He describes the "lorged" bonds as differing in many material points from the genuine ones. The paper, he says, was poorer, and the writing more spread out. The scal was larger than on the genuine, the letters of the scal were larger and thinner, and there was a printed date in the seal, while the date was written in the good bonds. The color of the ink of the numbers and compons was also different. The signature of one of the officers, shown to a relative of the officer was pronounced by him a forgery, and his imitation of the genuine signature from memory was shown to be a true initation of the signature in question on the genuine bonds. The detective asys the Judge would neither examine the different bonds submitted nor told them to await the projuction of witnesses, aithough instructed that a telegram had been sent to one of the officers of the road at Erie, Pa., to come on and testify as to the spuriousness of the bonds. The detective also says that the owner of the bonds, The detective also says that the owner of the bonds, The detective also says that the owner of the bonds, The detective also says that the owner of the bonds, the contradiction of their alleged forgery, explained t

On the other hand it was argued that the Judge, in refusing to hold the prisoner, had it his mind the recent afficulty into which two of his associates on the bench had brought themselves by complying with just such requests as that Mr. Sampson made.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

Charles Kantman, wholesale butcher at No. 616 West Fortieth street, has commenced proceedings before Register Alien for a composition in bankruptcy with his creditors. His schedules show aggregate ltabilities of $62,376 56, and assets $26,279 85. He proposes to pay twenty-five cents on the dollar, in four equal instalments, in three, six, nine and twelve months. Register Allen has called the first meeting of creditors to be held on Monday next.

Iseac Blumenthal, wholesale butcher at the foot of East Forty-fourth street, has filed a petition in volun-

East Forty-fourth street, has filed a petition in voluntary backruptcy before Register Align. His liabilities, which are mainly due to cattle dealers, amount to $27,100, and his assets, which are all in book accounts, are nominally $14,464,48.

Theodore Decach & Co., furniture, at No. 218 West Twenty-third street, have failed, with liabilities amounting to about $8,000 and nominal assets $15,000. The tailure was mainly due to the heavy expenses in carrying on the business and the inability to make collections. At a meeting of the creditors vesterday, at the office of Colonel Josiah Porter, No. 24 Park place the committee of creditors reported that they found the business had been conducted in a straightforward manner, the accounts were all correct and they recommended a settlement of forty cents on the dollar, in two equal instalments, at six and nine months, which was immediately accepted by a majority of the creditors.

A meeting of the creditors of Max Wolff & Co., shire manufacturers, at No. 11 White street, was held yesterday at the office of Register Alien, Twenty-two creditors proved their claims, amounting to about $20,000. Mr. James Greenwood was elected assignee in bankruptcy.

Register Alien yesterday received a warrant in bankrupt of against George L. Hooper, who has been adjudicated an involuntary bankrupt on the petition of his creditors.

MR. POPPENHUSEN'S BANKRUPTCY.

General sympathy is felt on Long Island for Mr. Peppenhasen on account of his recent bankruptcy. That gentleman is now lying sick in bed at his home in College Point. The alleged reason for Mr. Poppenhusen's failure is that he invested too heavily and too quickly in railroad property. It is at one time he was worth $5,000,000, while he is now reported to be almost penniless. His design is now reported to be almost penniless. His design seems to have been to own all the railroads of Long Island, and his capital was swamped in a tiempring to carry them prosperously through the hard times. Having held a controlling interest in all the roads, he left perfectly secure. The Central Railroad, which was finely equipped, never was a source of profit to him. It is said that there is a desire on the part of some to begin foreclosure suits against the roads. A foreclosure saie would completely wipe out Mr. Poppenhusen's claims on the paper he has indorsed it is said that proceedings will be soon instituted to foreclose a mortgage on the Southern road. This road is in good shape and not unduly bonded, a groat part of its indebtedness having been cleared by the foreclosure sale in 1873. Mortgages for $3,00,000 on the Southern road and $4,000,000 on the South side road were in contemplation at one time, but were never floated.

JERSEY CENTRAL REORGANIZA-TION.

The proposed reorganization of the New Jersey Central road on the plan prepared some time ago by a committee of stockholders continues to attract some attention and provoke discussion in financial circles. Some statements were made yesterday in Wall street, to ascertain the truth of which a HERALD reporter called at the company's offices in Liberty street. Mr. Knox, the treasurer, in answer to the inquiries made, could only say that no plan of reorganization had yet been agreed upon. The one proposed had been talked over a good deal, but had not been accepted by all the parties in interest. Certain differences were yet to be adjusted, and the delay in their settlement he attributed to the reductance of the holders of the consolidated bonds of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company to accept any plan of reorganization that will not amply repay them for securities issued on some of the most valuable coal lands in the country. This reductance he considered quite natural in view of the value of toose lands. He was not of the opinion, however, that the interests of the rairond property were being prejudiced by any such delay. The receiver, Mr. Lathrep, was a competent manager, and under his guidance the business of the road would proceed until the strangements for a roorganization were perfected and the holders of bonds and shares alike satisfied. could only say that no plan of reorganization had ye

HIS NOTE DISHONORED.

Coroner Lea, of Stapleton, yesterday neld an in-quest upon the body of Alfred Koch, who killed himsell at his residence on Sunday. It appears from the evidence that Koch was sitting in a room with his wile and family about ten minutes before the shootwile and family about ten minutes before the shooting. He sent his wife into another room for a glass of seltzer water, and while she was absent he fired the fatal pistol shot into his stomach. No cause could be assigned for the act at the time, but it has since been currently reported that a note drawn by decembed for type of the state of the sent of
